In the words of our clients

"The U.S. Commercial Service Center in Little Rock Arkansas – International Trade Administration is a key contributor to Amfuel's export success. We think of Director Richard Duda and his colleagues worldwide as a force multiplier with our export activities. The knowledge and contacts derived from working with Mr. Duda have increased our global reach, helping to gain new sales as well as nurture existing international relationships. Mr. Duda has been instrumental in providing direct and indirect support to assist Amfuel's international sales growth."

"Thanks to the support from the U.S. Commercial Service, SMART Reproduction has opened a major market for American small ruminant genetics, creating a lucrative revenue source for domestic producers. Additionally by using the REC Check Service, SMART Reproduction made an informed decision and avoided a potentially risky business relationship. Their due diligence process was invaluable to our company's financial security."
